

Latino Caucus for Public Health
in affiliation with
American Public Health Association

Dear Friend and Colleague,

The Latino Caucus for Public Health (LCPH) invites you to join us at the 143rd American Public Health Association (APHA) Annual Meeting and Exposition, which is to take place from October 29 to November 2, 2016 in Denver, Colorado. Our conference activities include multiple scientific program sessions, the Helen Rodriguez-Trias Award Breakfast, the LCPH Awards Reception, the LCPH Expo Booth, and networking activities intended to foster young professional development into APHA leadership roles. All programs are intended to highlight Latino health innovation and research.

We invite you to sponsor our conference events and create an opportunity for public health professionals and students to attend the largest public health conference in the country. Your sponsorship will support the Annual Awards Reception, where we recognize leaders for their commitment to improve health outcomes in the Latino community. It will also support a scholarship fund that provides a way for graduate and undergraduate students and community health workers to attend this important public health conference. Every dollar you provide goes directly to support LCPH activities and student scholarships, ultimately helping LCPH continue its 42-plus years of public health service and leadership development. All contributions are tax deductible.

The LCPH is proud of the many APHA leaders who have emerged from its membership ranks to advocate for Latinos health issues within the public health arena. Please join us by sponsoring our conference program in Denver and make this year extraordinary. Should you have questions or need additional information, please contact Ana Carricchi, LCPH Treasurer, at (310) 809-4104 or via email at ana.carricchilopez@csulb.edu.

Thank you for supporting and celebrating Latino health leadership. Please see enclosed sponsorship level information for your use. Your participation continues to make a difference.

Sincerely,

Perfecto Muñoz, PhD, MPH, MSW
